

GODFREDSON
BARNS BURN

SERIES TERRIFIC EXPLOSIONS STARTLE HUNDREDS SPECTATORS.

The Godfredson Land company's farm No. 2, in Superior township, suffered a $50,000 loss by fire, said to have been started by spontaneous combustion, about 6 o'clock Wednesday evening. It was for merly the Frank Newton farm and is four miles northeast of this city. Three large barns, a garage, gas house, oil house and a large feeding shed were destroyed.

Besides the buildings many tools and implements were destroyed, together with one horse and two hogs, 100 tons of hay, 2,300 bushels of wheat, 1,900 bushels of oats and 650 bushels of rye. The house, blacksmith shop, tool shed and chicken coop were all there was saved, and the house would have been destroyed except for a pressure system recently installed.

Soon after the fire was discovered by one of the hands who had finished his supper and left the house, there was a terrific explosion and throughout the evening other explosions occurred. Some of the explosions can be explained by the presence of gasoline and dynamite stored in the barns. Several men risked their lives in taking the dynamite from the barns and all was saved except about six pounds. Gas caused by the green grain stored in the three large barns which were destroyed is thought by some to have been the cause of the fire and some of the explosions.

Crowds poured onto the farm shortly after the fire was discovered and there were hundreds of people watching the conflagration during the evening, some staying until after midnight. The fire was still smoldering Thursday.

No definite statement has been made as to the loss, but Manager Leonard of the farm stated that $50,000 is as close an estimate as can be made until a complete inventory of the barns can be taken. The buildings were insured for $30,000.

The Ypsilanti fire department was called and the chief went to the farm to give his assistance. It was decided that the fire engine apparatus would be useless owing to lack of water.

NEW RATES ON D. J. C. EFFECTIVE THIS WEEK

New rates of fare will become effective on the D. J. and C. railway probably before the end of the present week. These new and temporary fares are a result of the order issued by the Ingham circuit court last week to bring the enforcement of the Gaspee rate bill.

While generally speaking the new fares will show material reductions, there are a few cases for short haul riding where there will be increases, due to the special regulations covering fares within cities and five miles outside being abolished.

The new rate between Ypsilanti and Detroit will be 37 cents. Other rates will be: Ypsilanti to Ann Arbor, 13 cents; Ypsilanti to Saline, 16 cents; Ypsilanti to Chelsea, 35 cents; to Grass Lake, 53 cents; to Jackson, 70 cents.

SIGNAL CORPS LADIES SERVE RED ARROWS

The Signal Corps Auxiliary served supper at the Masonic temple Monday evening to 50 of the Red Arrow men of the 107th Field Signal battalion, who motored out from Detroit for the occasion. A party of 100 had planned to come but owing to some misunderstanding in Detroit about transportation only half of the party were able to get here. A number were accompanied by their wives.

The menu was baked ham, creamed potatoes, buns, salad, jelly, pickles, ice cream, cake and coffee. Secretary Eckley, on behalf of the Board of Commerce, gave a cordial address of welcome, which was responded to by a Wisconsin guest, who spoke of the friendships made during the service of the men in the World war and voiced their pleasure at being able to come to Ypsilanti—the place that meant so much to their comrades from Michigan.

Mrs. Leon Hand delighted the guests with a number of songs and piano selections. After the supper a ride around the city, under the auspices of the Board of Commerce, was taken. Mr. Eckley in charge. Mayor Schaible had been invited by the auxiliary ladies to be present at the supper, but was unable to come, having been called out of town on business.

The invitation had been extended by the Signal Corps Auxiliary to the 107th Field Signal battalion, which comprised the 1st Michigan Signal Corps of Ypsilanti and a unit from Wisconsin.

Before leaving the temple a young Wisconsin man came to the ladies and on behalf of the men from his state thanked them for their invitation and the delicious supper and gracious hospitality shown them. He said the Ypsilanti men had so often spoken of the women of the Signal Corps Auxiliary and their work for the boys that the men from his state were glad of an opportunity to meet and felt it a privilege to be the guests of the society.

Major Arnold came to the president of the Signal Corps Auxiliary, Mrs. Webb, and thanked her for the hospitality that has always been shown the Signal Corps by its auxiliary. He said that the Signal Corps had always been able to depend on their "mothers" to do the right thing by them.

The ladies wish to thank those who helped, the Board of Commerce and Mr. Eckley, also Mrs. Hand, for her help in entertaining.

RAY BATTERY LOSES TO WYANDOTTE

The Ray Battery lost to Corrigan's Independents of Wyandotte Sunday, 6-3. The game would have been more interesting if it had not been stopped so many times in order that the players might settle their disputes over each successive play.

Kain interfered with the game in the eighth inning just as the Independents had put three runs across, and the umpire was obliged to forfeit the game. It is possible that the Ray Battery would have won the game in their next two times at bat as they seemed to find the ball easily and were hitting freely. Crossman pitched for the Ray Battery and was taken out in the eighth and Reynolds put in. Reynolds retired the side in one, two, three order as the storm began to break. A large crowd witnessed the game and all scattered for a shelter as the rain swept across the field.

MICHIGAN HAS MANY PARKS

IT HERE.

State parks in northeastern Michigan will soon be offering the auto tourist who seeks the hundreds of lakes, the trout streams and the forests of the northern part of the state ideal camping spots for his tour or at which to spend his vacation, according to T. F. Marston, one of the members of the state conservation board, which among other duties has the care and operation of these parks in its charge.

Starting at East Tawas, there is a park on the shore of Tawas Bay, located close to the business section of the city, equipped with a commodious bath house and on which a rest room and community building is now being erected which will provide a place for all kinds of games, dances, etc.

At Harrisville is another state park located on the shore of Lake Huron, where there is plenty of room for campers, an abundance of fuel, good swimming and fishing. The woods on this park are now being cleared and a bath house, toilets and a pavilion will soon be erected.

At Onaway is located one of the largest of the new state parks, consisting of 152 acres on Black Lake, with all kinds of camping locations from thick woods to fairly open ground, sandy and gravelly beaches, and at one end an old stone quarry. The work of improving this park is well under way and it will be equipped with boat and bath houses, a pavilion, summer kitchens and good drinking water.

Cheboygan has a beautiful state park with opportunity for camping and picknicking, supplied with good drinking water, but not located on the lake front.

The state park at old Fort Michilimackinac with its associations running clear back to the days of the French explorers and the war of 1812, offers the next stopping place. This park is the most complete of any and offers every convenience to campers. All of these parks are located upon or close to the Dixie highway.

Coming down the center of the state on Trunk Line highway No. 18 equally interesting and picturesque spots are offered to the tourist. The first will be Indian River state park, located on the south shore of Burt Lake, with many acres of woodland, a fine stream running through it and a water supply furnished by an extremely active flowing well.

Next will come the Hanson Military reserve, not controlled by the state conservation commission, but which will be available, through the commission, for camping purposes when not in use by the national guard, under rules laid down by the state military board.

The Otsego park, which has been accepted, but on which work has not yet been started, will be located on Otsego Lake and will have all the conveniences of the other parks. The Gladwin state park is located on the Cedar river, just inside the city of Gladwin, has a fine flowing well and offers many other conveniences to campers.

In Clare county Wilson park, located on Budd Lake, has been developed as a city park, and while not yet owned by the state, is open to tourists and campers. On the western side of the state are a number of state parks which will also be available in the near future but work on them has not yet advanced so well as on those of the eastern side of the state.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Bill Hayden, boss linotype operator on the daily, is back on the job after a few weeks' vacation with his family at North Lake. Bill always takes his vacation about birthday time, believing in the old adage of killing two birds with one stone.
He says it works fine. The same old bunch coming out each year for a birthday surprise, which Billsays is no surprise at all, he just conveniently gets out of the way while his good wife is getting the surprise ready. While we are on Bill we want to say he is some fisherman. Any time you go out to visit him at the lake he takes you out and shows you a lot of fish heads nailed on a tree. Hutch says Bill buries them every year and then digs them up and nails them on the tree, and that he has done this se-many times that he don't see how he will get by with it much longer, as the heads are so full of nail holes
that there is no room for holes.Bill says:
It's the hand that rocks the cradle
That often rocks the boat.
And makes it hard to keep
The old ship Matrimony afloat.

FARMERS CONSIDER COMMUNITY MARKETS

The farmers of five counties near Detroit are expected to meet at a mass meeting called by the Oakland County Horticultural society Monday night at Franklin, in Oakland county, to consider plans for a new marketing system in Detroit.

Washtenaw, Monroe, Macomb, Wayne and Oakland county farmers have been urged to attend the meeting. Plans for a system of community markets in Detroit are being pushed to an early completion by the agricultural division of the Detroit Board of Commerce.

The community market plan calls for mutual support by consumers and producers of cash markets operated on a cost basis, established on or near the main arteries of travel into the city in residential sections, to which producers may sell direct and from which consumers and grocers may buy.

There are community markets in Pontiac, Adrian and one being organized in Monroe. The plan is finding considerable support in Detroit.

USEFUL IN THE KITCHEN.

Make your old, discarded newspapers serve you as labor savers in the kitchen. Crushed between the hands until soft they are excellent for polishing lamp chimneys and for rubbing off coffee pots, tea-kettles and skillets. Cut old newspapers in pieces six inches square and keep in a box tacked near work table. Use these to wipe out greasy dishes and the dishpan before washing them, then burn the papers. A piece of newspaper saturated with kerosene will start the kitchen fire quickly and do away with the temptation to carry the kerosene can to the stove—that common cause of so many accidents. If you haven't a good molding board use a piece of heavy brown wrapping paper with a gloss finish. This can be used a number of times and renewed when necessary. Don't fail to keep a good supply of vegetable brushes on hand. They cost but a few cents, but save much time in cleaning vegetables, the outside of glassware and grooves in any articles which are hard to reach with the dishcloth.

To keep dishcloths and towels in a sanitary condition as well as white and clean, throw them once a day into a pan of water with a little soap and a bit of soda, let soak, then rub and dry, and two or three times a week boil them in a good suds made with dissolved borax soap chips, and make a point to have a new dishcloth every week or ten days. The biscuit board and rolling pin are kept white and purely clean by scrubbing with this suds as well as the refrigerator and bread and cake boxes, which should have a thorough weekly cleaning with the soap chip suds to keep them in a sanitary condition. Then this hot suds used for cleaning the sink and pouring down the drain pipe cuts the grease and keeps the run clear, and if used often no other disinfectant will be needed. If there are no other mats to protect the floor around the stove when cooking, stitch together three or four sheets of heavy brown paper to use for this purpose and they will save many grease spots from the floor. It is astonishing how much less formidable the dish washing appears when the dishes are neatly prepared for the work, and old rags need not be used for dish towels when crash is cheap and does the work so much swifter and better. Use an old paint brush or whisk broom for washing pots and kettles and saves time and trouble.

GOTTS AND HORN REUNION.

The Gotts and Horn reunion will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hulett, Belleville, on Labor day, Sept. 5.

COUNTY SCHOOLS OPEN FALL TERM

Frain's Lake school, which began its fall session today, opened the school year for the district schools of Washtenaw county. The other rural schools will not open until Sept. 6, with the exception of Milan, which will begin the following Monday, Sept. 12, according to Evan Essery, school commissioner.

There are 162 rural school rooms in the county, but 12 of these will not be open this year on account of the small enrollment, the pupils being sent to schools in adjoining districts. Last year it was necessary for the rural schools in districts No. 1, Ypsilanti, to close down and draw school pay, tuition and transportation for the 58 pupils who came to this city to the public schools or the training school. A few schools this year will be confronted with the same problem.

There will be 143 teachers of the county rural teaching staff for the coming year, which is about the same number as last year. There are 143 school buildings in the various districts, which require the services of one teacher. The buildings at Whitmore Lake, Salem and Mooreville have three, two and one room, respectively, one teacher taking charge of each room.

Five schools have sent in a report to the school commissioner's office as to whether school will be held there, but teachers have been recommended to them and it is probable that they will be hired and sessions resumed this fall. These five schools are in the townships of Bridgewater, Lima, Lodi, Northville and Superior.

One or two of the schools are in session for only eight months, but they have not decided whether they will begin in September or October.

BIG TONNAGE IS HAULED OVER COUNTRY ROADS.

The necessity of keeping country roads in good condition is shown by a report recently compiled by the bureau of markets and crop estimates, United States department of agriculture, showing the extent to which they are used in hauling farm products to market. According to the report, which shows the tonnage of 11 products hauled on country roads, giving the yearly average for the period from 1915 to 1919, there were 27 tons of these 11 crops hauled for every 100 acres of land. The average tonnage of the 11 crops hauled on country roads each year for the period mentioned amounted to 86,560,000 tons. The 11 crops referred to in the report are corn, wheat, oats, barley, rye, rice, flaxseed, cotton (including seed), tobacco, potatoes and cultivated hay.

A World Necessity

What makes possible the running of farms and businesses; the erecting of schools and churches and homes; the building of roads; the payment of wages; in short, the carrying on of human activities and life itself? It is saving, your saving, our saving, the saving of those who lived before us, that makes these things possible.

You couldn't borrow if someone hadn't saved and when you haven't saved enough for your own use you must pay others for the use of what they have saved. It's fair, isn't it?

But why not save for yourself, receive 4 per cent compound interest on your savings and accumulate enough to buy things you will want with your own money?

Opening a savings account with us will help you do these things.

Moore exhibited a pair of wide silver bracelets found on her father's farm. They were decorated with an etching of an Indian with war plumes and carrying an arrow. Many interesting histories were given. Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Laurain gave splendid papers on the Indians, the former giving their history, customs and traditions and the latter telling of the Indian of today.

Mrs. Laurain told especially of the churches and schools established among the Indians by missionaries. Lunch was served. She read the 11th chapter of Hebrew and gave a thoughtful talk on Faith. At the close of the talk Mrs. Rosella Duffield told of Mrs. Lord's grandparents' faithfulness in their spiritual life, the grandmother having been Mrs. Duffield's Sunday school teacher when the latter was a little girl. Always they were in their places in the church and Sunday school when real effort was required to make the trip of several miles, often over muddy roads and through storms, with a horse and buggy. Faith and faithfulness, said the speaker, are closely allied.

AS AN EDITOR SEES IT.

Human nature is contrary and an unknown quality, and nobody has a better chance to know it than an editor. A Mason merchant was called "on the carpet" by the income tax man at Lansing this last week. He came into this office Wednesday and informed us that he did not want that fact chronicled in the News. He paid no tax this last year, still is generally considered "well heeled." For three weeks in succession he has refused to advertise a line—in fact he has advertised just $37.64 worth in four years and four months, less than a dollar a month. We asked him why a little four-line local could possibly do him so much harm when display advertising could do him no good in his retail business. He couldn't explain it, but wanted his little session with the tax collector kept quiet just the same. (It all comes out of the same jug, and why should one drink have so much more kick than another?)—Ing-ham County News.

A SUPER CROWD

LARGEST CROWD OF REPRESENTATIVE PEOPLE EVER ASSEMBLED AT AN AUCTION SALE IN THE CITY OF YPSILANTI.

A large attendance was at Warren Lewis' auction pavilion Friday evening, many coming from our surrounding cities and towns. Precisely as advertised, Warren Lewis, auctioneer, opened the selling at 7:10 p. m., and by continuous selling in a rapid and business way, the last article, a magnificent mahogany living room set, was sold as the big city clock tolled out the midnight hour of 12 o'clock. Many people did not gain admission to the inside auction pavilion auction ring, stood upon chairs and boxes under the wide circus awning, which was spread 25 feet wide, nearly circling all way around the auction pavilion. There were many children frolicking around the large illuminated sale lawn where the ice cream and soft cold drink wagons parked. Flunkies were serving out cool refreshments to the crowd.

It was common to hear people remark about the real bargains that were handed out by Warren Lewis, auctioneer salesman, who alone handled the entire super-auction affair. He is also an expert real estate auctioneer. It will be remembered that he has sold many of the finest residences by the quick action route—the auction—in Ypsilanti, as well as a number of the best farms and farm lands in Michigan. At one time he gained a national reputation by his phenomenal success in selling pure bred live stock, fancy saddle and speed horses and motor cars.

The Warren Lewis' auction pavilion, big lawn and pet and live stock yards, with all its modern conveniences and its Michigan Central main line railroad siding, crossing the lawn, is long enough to accommodate the spotting and selling out of a car load of merchandise or a car load of fancy dairy cattle or even two, three or four-section circus railroad train.

The desirable part of the whole thing is that the location is ideal. Ypsilanti, with its big railroad features and only a few minutes' ride from the great city of Detroit, surrounded with several cities and towns, its most prosperous farm lands and paved highways.

A word worth mentioning is one uttered by one of the University of Michigan's most brilliant men, that "Warren Lewis is certainly the Barnum-Bailey of the auction business world."

Mrs. Nathaniel Flanigan returned Saturday from a three weeks' stay with her parents at East Tawas.

Warren Lewis, often referred to by the public and the press, is the most advertised auctioneer. He is selling considerable real estate in neighboring towns. Yesterday he sold a fine site by the action, the auction. He has a splendidly located place for sale on the east side of Ypsilanti. See him personally. —Adv.
